	No good reeds	Metronome battery has been dead all week	Scales aren't really my thing	Relationship drama	Good news! I got a new instrument on eBay
	Instrument hates me	It's clearly somebody else's fault that I've overbooked myself with activities	Slept in	Instead of assigned repertoire, have been working on "Glee" medley	Forgot I was supposed to practice that
	It has been a difficult week emotionally. Yes, again.	Hoping to avoid playing by getting you talking about something else	Pleased to report: practiced almost 60% of required minimum!	Etude book still not ordered	Too sick to practice all week, but brought my contagious disease to today's lesson anyway
	"Busy"	I don't really like to make pencil marks on my music	Had enough money to get my instrument repaired or buy a new cell phone. Guess which one I picked?	"Family emergency" = not actually a family emergency	What, you wanted me to play this whole thing?
	You don't understand: I've been really tired	Too hard	Too easy	Too boring	None of this matters. I'm planning to do pre-med
